WASHES—BY THE GOVERNOR OF NORTH CAROLINA.

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS, I have learned with great pain that there are many well known and notorious deserters from the ranks of the Confederate States Army, who are lurking in the country by night and encourage these deserters and harbor and conceal these misquid men at home, in order to prevent their being punished for their crimes;

Now therefore, I, Z. BILLEN B. VAN E, Governor of the State of North Carolina, do hereby give my proclamation, and the following advice, to all the people of this State, to-wit: such base, cowardly and treasonable conduct, and warning them that they will only cut themselves to indictment and dishonor, and that they will be held responsible for any and as to the everlasting contempt and detestation of God and honorable men.

Let it be known that no man can be greater, no cowardice more abject, no treason more base, than for a citizen of the State, enjoying its privileges and protection will about his person, and the property of his family, and the rights of his country, to go forth in defence of their country, this is to desert.

watered militia, the land will be full of veteran soldiers, before whose house-faces you will not have courage to stand. You will be ashamed to look at all, you will be ashamed. You will be huddled from the pews, insulted in the streets, a jury of your countrymen will be against you. You will be despised everywhere where will shun you as a pestilence; for the who lacks courage and patriotism can have no other good quality to commend him. I have said this to you, and I have said it here before offered you and I am not now authorized to promise it, yet I am assured that no man will be so stupid as to desert from the ranks of the army, and I am assured that you will have the grace to redeem yourselves from the disgrace and ignominy which you are incurring.

There is a great enemy and a great army, and a glorious victory has been won, but several thousand of our soldiers lie in achieving it for us. Every man is needed to fight the great enemy, and every man is needed to fight to our still powerful enemy. Unless desertion is prevented our strength must depart from our arms, and our arms will be useless.
